what to expect

book your session

Once you book your session, I will contact you and we will go over all of the details of the shoot. We'll discuss possible shooting locations, wardrobe, and any special things that you may want to incorporate into your session.

two days before

Two days before your session I will touch base with you to confirm the time and location of our session. Your remaining session fee balance is due at this time.

at your session

I love to capture your personality! We will spend up to two hours together having a lot of fun. I may ask you to do silly things, or sit or lay on the ground so please make sure you aren't wearing anything too restricting, or that you're worried about getting dirty. The main goal is for you to feel comfortable and have fun, that way it is reflected in your images. These are your photos, your moments, and your memories, so let's have a blast!

two weeks later

Your photos will be put up in a password-protected online gallery, and you will receive an email from me notifying you that your photos are ready. You will have 14 days to place your order before your gallery expires. After 14 days, all ordered images will be archived for another 30 days in case of re-prints, and all unordered images will be purged. Depending on the type and complexity of your order, please allow 2-4 weeks to receive your photos. Standard print orders are generally a little quicker, but some specialty items may take longer to receive.
